Jap Shipping Losses in the Manila Area Increased ANKS ADVANCE TO ROER Americans and British Evacuate Provinces in China

Nimitz Reports Terrific Blow At Enemy Fleet

Heavy Cruiser Sent to Bottom

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (P)—American Leyte-based planes dropped 235 tons of bombs on Japanese airdromes on Cebu and Negros and at Davao Friday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said today.

Thirty Japanese planes rose to intercept the American flight and eight were shot down.

By LEIF ERICKSON
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 27 (P)—An upward revision of destruction inflicted on Japanese shipping in the Manila area Friday showed today that United States Third fleet carrier planes sank a heavy cruiser, three destroyers, a destroyer escort, thirteen other ships and two luggers.

At least eighty-seven aircraft were knocked down in air combat and by anti-aircraft fire.

Two Destroyers Sunk
A communique by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz added two old destroyers to the list of enemy ships sunk and identified one ship previously reported wiped out as a destroyer escort.

The score of ships damaged was raised to twenty-eight—a sharp increase of twenty-three over the original count. These included "two destroyers or small transports" bombed, and nine luggers.

This made a grand total of forty-eight ships sunk or damaged in the devastating attack.

Jap Losses Increased
The total number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged during November in steady pounding of the Philippines supply and transport lines is increased to 151.

Helicopter fighters and anti-aircraft fire from the American surface ships downed fifty-eight Japanese planes. Twenty-nine more were destroyed on the ground and an additional thirteen probably were downed on the ground.

Avengers and Helldivers ranged over most of Luzon and adjacent islands, carrying out one of the heaviest attrition blows in weeks on the Japanese supply line to American-occupied Leyte island in the central Philippines.

The communique's revised summary:

Revised Figures
Sunk—One heavy cruiser at Santa Cruz, on the west coast of Luzon. One destroyer at Santa Cruz.

Two old destroyers at Marinduque island, about 100 miles southeast of Manila.

Three medium landing ships ten miles west of Santa Cruz.

One cargo ship north of San Fernando, a port 150 miles north of Manila.

One small freighter off Subic bay, fifty miles north of Manila.

Four others near Lubang island, about seventy-five miles southeast of Manila.

Four small coastal cargo ships at Bantion island, 137 miles south of Manila.

Two luggers west of Bataan.

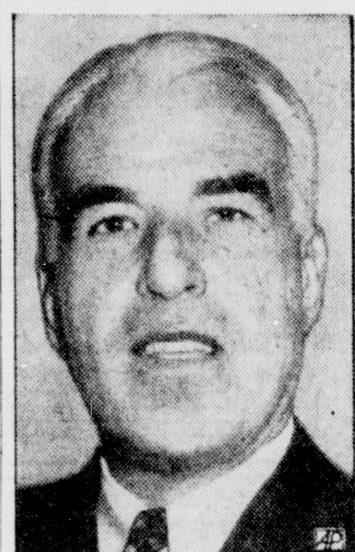

Damaged—
Two cargo ships, hit in previous raids near San Fernando, torpedoed, beached and wrecked.

One cargo ship, previously damaged, bombed and set ablaze thirty miles south of San Fernando.

Three landing craft beached near Santa Cruz.

Tokyo Pounded By Superforts In Long Attack

By W. H. MOBLEY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (P)—The first co-ordinated Superfort strike from east and west today clamped down on a giant aerial pincer on the Japanese.

A "sizeable force" from the new Twenty-first Bomber Command's base on Saipan island in the Marianas beat at Tokyo for an hour and a half in the second such thrust in four days.

A flight of "substantial force" from India bases of the Twentieth Bomber Command, was hurled across the bay of Bengal and blasted with results called "good" at the vital Japanese-dominated rail center of Bangkok in Thailand.

All Bombers Return
Not one of the great B-29s was lost to enemy action in either strike, a communique from the Twentieth air force reported several hours afterward.

Opposition by either fighters or anti-aircraft over Tokyo was reported "virtually nil." Fire from the ground at the Thailand capital was called "meager" and the huge bombers downed six, probably destroyed three more and damaged two of the opposing fighters.

The communique described targets in both strikes as "strategic industrial objectives." In the case of the Bangkok thrust by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Le May's bombers from India, it was specified that these targets were railroad marshaling yards and repair facilities.

Waterfront Bombed
The "industrial waterfront" was the specific target of the Tokyo raiders, unquestionably with special attention to great airplane manufacturing plants in that area.

Both were daylight strikes, and the bombing at Bangkok was visual precision work from cloudless skies. At Tokyo the big planes encountered a heavy cloud cover and aimed their explosives by means of precision instruments. Results were not observed.

"Reports from returning crews confirm direct hits upon the heart of the target," the afternoon communique said of the Bangkok thrust, "and the aggregate bombing of a heavy cloud cover and aimed their explosives by means of precision instruments. Results were not observed."

"Reports from returning crews confirm direct hits upon the heart of the target," the afternoon communique said of the Bangkok thrust, "and the aggregate bombing of a heavy cloud cover and aimed their explosives by means of precision instruments. Results were not observed."

The Tokyo run was only the second operation for Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell's new Twenty-first command. The existence of the force was announced only last Friday in the roar of its bombs smashing into Tokyo.

Confirmation by Senate Freely Predicted by Leaders

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (P)—With "inexpressible disappointment" that he can not finish his task of organizing world peace, weary and work-worn Cordell Hull today yielded the position of secretary of state to his dynamic young lieutenant, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

President Roosevelt submitted the promotion of the 44-year-old undersecretary to the Senate about three hours after announcing the resignation of Hull, whom he praised as the "father of the United Nations." Senate leaders predicted prompt confirmation of the appointment.

Hull Regrets Resignation
In his letter of resignation, tendered last Tuesday, Hull told the president "it is a supreme tragedy to me personally" to be unable to continue the work of postwar world organization. But his health, he said, forced him to step aside.

He was 73 years old Oct. 2 and that day was his last at the State department. He has been ill of a throat ailment, followed by exhaustion, ever since and for the last five weeks has been under treatment at Bethesda, Md., naval hospital.

On the day he received Hull's letter, the president replied that the resignation "has hit me between wind and water"—a nautical term for a grievous blow. The letters were made public by the White House.

High Praise for Hull
When the organization of the United Nations is set up, the president wrote, "I shall continue to pray that you as the father of the United Nations may preside over its first session."

"That has nothing to do with whether you are secretary of state or not at the time, but should go to you as the one person in all the world who has done the most to make this great plan for peace an effective fact."

Saying that it would give me "great satisfaction if we should round out the three terms" together, the president urged Hull to let him accept the resignation as of January 20th. But in the week between the writing of the letter and today's swift actions, Hull and his doctors decided that his recovery depended on his breaking commu-

School Official Gets Enough of Wildcat Hunting

VANCEBURG, Ky., Nov. 27 (P)—Lewis county's wildcats can yowl to their hearts' content.

School officials have withdrawn from combat against the animals which are blamed for the truancy of the three young children of Farmer Joseph Johnson.

Attendance Officer B. C. Douglas said that he would recommend to the school board that transportation by wagon—or sled, when the mountain snows are heavy—be provided so that the youngsters can travel in safety the three miles down lonely Martin hollow.

One Hunt Is Enough
Douglas arrived at this solution while leading an eight-man posse on a wildcat hunt, from which they returned early today, empty-handed, mud-smudged and soaked to the skin.

More than fifteen others had agreed to take part in the hunt, which started at "dusk-dark" last night, but they took one other way—maybe they can be tracked after snow falls.

Meantime, Lewis county's children would be at their desks when Mrs. Lorene Greenough and Miss Lola Johnson call their classes to attention Wednesday.

School Superintendent Thomas W. Rowland has declared that wildcat or no wildcat, they must return by noon.

P. S.—But that wildcat had better not get too "uppity." There's still a county-posted $100 price on his head.

Chinese Report Most Critical Outlook of War

Japanese Cut Off Eastern Provinces

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (P)—All American and British nationals in Kweichow province and the unoccupied portions of Hunan province were ordered to leave as two Japanese forces surged today toward Kweichow, capital of Kweichow.

A Chinese communique said the Japanese westward drive from Liuchow had toppled Hochih and that the invaders were less than 140 miles southeast of Kweichow. Another enemy column was headed toward Kweichow from Paoching in Hunan province.

Most Americans Escape
Missionaries, Red Cross workers and representatives of various agencies were affected by the notification which gave them ample time to escape.

Most Americans were reported to have succeeded in escaping from Eastern China, now cut off by the linking of Japanese forces which invaded Kwangsi province from Hunan and Kwangtung.

Generally it was felt in Chungking that the few months would be the most critical for China since the war began in 1937.

Fall of Kweichow would place the invaders in position to strike toward Chungking, 200 miles to the northwest.

U. S. Air Base Abandoned
Another Japanese force moving through South China toward French Indo-China forced the abandonment and destruction of the last forward American air base in South China at Nanning—the seventh to fall before the current Japanese offensive designed, apparently, to knock out United States air strength in the Chinese hinterland.

The high command was silent concerning Nanning, which the Japanese claim to have captured. But it was generally accepted here that the city, less than 100 miles from the French Indo-China border, had been taken by the enemy, thus for all practical purposes, splitting China in half. The Japanese now have an all-land communications route from Manchuria to French Indo-China.

The Chinese high command said Japanese forces moving westward from fallen Liuchow in Kwangsi province by-passed Hwayuanchen, a railroad town forty-three miles to the west to reach Hochih, only thirty miles from the Kwangsi-Kweichow border.

Nanning Abandoned
United States Fourteenth Air Force announcement said Nanning was abandoned Nov. 19 after all installations and runways had been destroyed. Big India-based transports carried out most of the per-

Textile Workers Ask Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (P)—Textile workers are next in line before the War Labor Board with pay increase demands outside the scope of the Little Steel formula.

W.L.B. began consideration today of the sub-standard pay complaints posed in a case between 50,000 CIO textile workers and fifty-four textile and rayon mills in the South, New England, New York and Pennsylvania.

CIO demands in this case, like those involved in W.L.B.'s decision handing an average five cents an hour wage increase to 400,000 CIO steel workers, could be granted without infringing on the formula.

The formula rule limits living-cost-compensating pay hikes to fifteen per cent beyond levels in effect Jan. 1, 1941 but the administration's stabilization policy permits some increases to correct hardships.

The disclosure was made even as the administration encountered a burst of opposition in formally asking Congress to let the social security tax double on January 1, as provided by law.

A. J. A. Meyner, security board chairman, took the administration's views before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Committeemen submitted him to vigorous questioning, indicating opposition to the tax increase, and causing speculation that Congress

Brooklyn Boy Cuts Loose: Former Policeman Stages One-Man War, Kills Eight German Officers

By WES GALLAGHER

PUFFENDORF, GERMANY, Nov. 27 (P)—He is only a former Brooklyn patrolman, but to a battalion of German Tiger tanks on this front he was more trouble than a regiment of very angry Russians.

In a few brief hours he did these things:

Attacked five German Tiger tanks and accompanying German infantry along with hand grenades.

Kills Five Commanders
Killed all five tank commanders with his rifle.

"Surrounded" and staged a one-man war on a German command post, killing three officers.

Played hide and seek alone with a whole German battalion in the town of Prummern.

It was the first time he ever had been in action.

He is Lt. Carl C. Palm, 28, former New York city policeman whose home is at 724 Forty-seventh street, Brooklyn.

Here is how it happened:

Hearing the town of Prummern was taken, Lt. Palm rushed his anti-tank platoon into town and found that his battalion still was engaged in street fighting.

Sets Up His Guns
He selected a strategic corner and began setting up his three fifty-seven-millimeter guns. One was fairly well set and another was almost ready when five new Royal Tiger sixty-ton tanks rolled down the street.

The tanks were accompanied by considerable infantry. To give his platoon time to finish setting up the guns, Palm dashed to one side and began throwing hand grenades at the tanks and infantry in order to direct their fire toward himself.

The tanks kept coming, however, and knocked out the American guns, even though one gun knocked a tread off one tank.

The German infantry started after Palm, chasing him in and out of houses and throwing grenades at him. He eluded them and got onto a roof overlooking the street where the tanks were. The tank commanders all had raised their hatches and were sitting outside. Palm shot all five of them.

Bags Three Nazi Officers
Then the former cop ran to another house and discovered he was directly opposite a German command post. It was getting dark, so he crept to a window and shot the first three German officers who tried to go in or out of the post. German foot traffic abruptly slackened off, while Palm continued to hang around and wait for another shot.

Meanwhile, his battalion withdrew from the town, leaving Palm and nine of his men who were separated.

Down the street Sgt. Ellsworth Dover of Minco, Okla., who headed a mine-clearing squad, took a hand in Palm's one-man war by quietly laying a minefield diagonally across the street corner near the German command post and in front of the

War Powers Act Extension Gets Limited Backing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (P)—The House Judiciary committee approved a one-year extension of the administration's sweeping War Powers act today but planned to let a provision for a court review of war agency rulings.

The War Powers act is the congressional basis for the War Production Board, War Food Administration, Office of Defense Transportation, parts of the Office of Price Administration and many other emergency agencies set up to gear the nation's industry to wartime production.

Extends Act One Year
Today's bill, which will be reported to the House probably tomorrow, extends for one year the life of the act which otherwise would expire with the close of this year.

With its approval, however, the committee adopted an amendment providing for a court review of WPB and OPA suspension orders by which the use of priority materials can be withdrawn from individual manufacturers or dealers.

The present act provides no appeal from agency orders. Under the amendment individuals can go into court and get a stop order against a WPB suspension order anytime within ten days after the order is issued.

Gives Power to Courts
The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.), gives federal district courts jurisdiction to pass on suspension orders, priority allocations or an agency's refusal to pass on an application to stay a suspension.

Under the present arrangement WPB, ODT or other war agencies can suspend an allocation of critical materials after once granting it and the person affected cannot go into court. The withdrawal of a "B" gasoline ration, for example, amounts to a suspension order.

Through the Hobbs amendment a manufacturer who loses a supply of critical materials through a WPB suspension order could go into federal court.

Russians Advance Six Miles into North Slovakia

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (P)—Russian troops in a new six-mile penetration of Northern Slovakia yesterday crossed the 2,700-ft. Carpathian mountains along the Polish frontier as other units in the south struck to within eleven miles of the big North Hungarian rail center of Satoraljauihely, a Moscow communique announced last night.

Sweeping through fifty more hamlets in the Axis puppet state, Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army widened its front to seventy-five miles from a point west of the Dukla pass in the north down to the Hungarian frontier.

Strongholds Threatened
The fresh strike from the north further imperiled the enemy strongholds of Presov and Kassia (Kosice), already threatened by central columns only twenty-five miles to the east.

Moscow did not announce any gains on the Hungarian front, and Berlin said fighting had slackened around Budapest, where the Paris radio reported grave disorders had broken out, with workers fighting the Germans inside a capital deprived of gas, electricity and water.

The Berlin radio said that Russian troops, who had crossed to the west bank of the Danube at Basting and Apatin, 107 and 120 miles south of Budapest in Northern Yugoslavia, had forced the Germans back a mile or more. The Germans see this Russian operation, not yet confirmed by Moscow, as part of a Soviet plan to invade Western Hungary and take Budapest from the rear.

Advance in North
In Northern Slovakia the Russians hammered out gains on a twelve-mile front on either side of the Dukla pass and last night were only three miles northeast of Svidnik junction with the capture of the village of Ladomirova.

Six miles southwest of Dukla pass a Soviet group took Dolhova, two miles inside Slovakia. At the other end of the twelve-mile northern front the Russians captured Male and Velke Staskovce, seven miles northeast of Svidnik junction.

Following Sunday's seizure of Humenne and Michalovce, in the middle sector of the Sanok-Satoraljauihely railroad running across Czechoslovakia, the Russians succeeded in clearing considerable sections of that important artery.

and Messerschmitts while starting airports and military transport centers in Northwest Germany. It was the greatest test of fighter against fighter and pilot against pilot of the war. The German area was filled with planes daring at each other in running dogfights which covered several hundred miles.

The top scoring Mustang group with thirty kills—eight short of matching a group record—was led by Major Joseph E. Broadhead, Rupert, Idaho. Capt. Leonard R. Carson, Denver, Colo., a member of the group, became the day's ace by destroying five planes. Lt. Charles E. Yeager, Hamilton, W. Va., and Capt. John B. England, Caruthersville, Mo., shot down four aces.

Germans Driven Back to Major Defense Barrier

Nazi Strongholds Facing Capture

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, PARIS, Nov. 27 (P)—German defenders of the Cologne plain were driven back south of Julich tonight to the west bank of the Roer river—best natural barrier short of the Rhine—as the United States Ninth dealt hammer blows alongside the United States First in the fateful battle of the Reich.

The United States First Army, pressing the enemy back a mile and a half with heavy losses, was deep inside two strongholds to the south within two and a half and four miles of the Roer. A staff officer declared that given a break from the weather, the river soon would be reached.

Nazis Use Fresh Troops
As the German high command threw in fresh troops to meet this mounting peril to its industrial Ruhr and Rhineland, the Saar basin—second only to the Ruhr as a source of the enemy's war might—was invaded anew by the resurgent United States Third Army which now where along its sixty-mile front was now more than sixteen miles from the Reich after gains up to six miles.

United States heavy bombers flew close support to the United States Seventh Army for the first time, bombing railroads at Offenbourg, ten miles southeast of Strasbourg. First tactical air force fighter-bombers knocked out two Rhine pontoon bridges to the south, further squeezing the enemy fleeing the Vosges.

House-to-House Fighting
As elements of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth army battled bitterly house-to-house in Kolar two miles west of Julich, other forces fought half-way through Kirchberg on the west bank of the river a mile and a half south of Julich.

(Detailed maps show that Julich itself is on the Inde, a tributary of the Roer, which it joins less than a half-mile north. Apparently it was in this sector to the north that the Germans fell back to the Roer.)

While this thrust against savage resistance represented a gain of only a half-mile to a mile east of Bourheim, it will give the Americans their first foothold on the Roer and enable them to drive on Julich from the south once they clean out the rest of Kirchberg.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges's doughboys to the south, fought into the center of Langerwehe, fourteen miles inside Germany and the last major road center before the Roer, four miles east. Eight miles south they seized most of the forest anchorage town of Herten, two and a half miles from the river.

Five miles northwest of Duren they fought into Grosshau, which earlier was plastered by artillery. Like the Ninth, the First was fighting the bitterest kind of opposition over a battlefield turned into a quagmire by rain and snow.

Predicts Greater
Cigaret Shortage

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27 (P)—An even greater cigarette shortage in the next three months than in the last two was predicted today by Eric Calamia, president of the National Retail Tobacco Merchants' Association.

Calamia told the Kansas City Tobacco Roundtable there was no one explanation for the shortage, but asserted he believed it started when the raising of a tobacco crop was classified as an essential industry by the government while the manufacture of cigarettes and cigars is considered nonessential. Tobacco men now are suggesting a plan of prorating the available cigarette supply to aid in better distribution, he added.

98 German Interceptors Are Shot Down in All-Fighter Air Battle

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON, Nov. 27 (P)—In the greatest all-fighter aerial battle in history, 500 Mustangs downed at least ninety-eight German interceptors today, boosting American fighter kills in the past twenty-four hours to a record-smashing 212.

This raised the total United States Eighth Air Force score for the same period to 239 German fighters downed.

The unofficial number of enemy planes discovered today was lifted to 102 with the announcement that at least four more German planes were ridden by concentrated Mustang machinegun fire as they attempted to leave the ground.

The American fighter pilots engaged more than 400 Focke-Wulfs

Crisis Looming For Nazi Forces, Simpson Asserts

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Undramatic as has been the progress of Allied armies in the rain-soaked northern area of the west front as compared with events in the south, the elements of a crisis for the Nazi foe are taking definite shape there.

They can be seen in the three army approach to the Roer river on a fifteen-mile front that has brought main enemy anchorages along that waterway from south of Duren to north of Linlich under American or British fire. They are obvious, too, northeastward on the Meuse where British Second army forces have closed with Venlo.

Two Attack Prongs
Between these two Allied prongs lies a narrow westward jutting finger of the German frontier. It forms a segment of the Siegfried line. The exact Allied front, presumably held by the British, about that westward bulge of German territory east of Sittard is not quite clear, but it is certain that a dangerous salient for the enemy is developing.

American puncture of the Roer defense line anywhere along the First or Ninth army fronts would outflank the salient from the North and also outflank the Roer line holding up an Anglo-American advance to the Rhine across the Cologne plain.

Allied Vise Closing
Between the two active zones an Allied vise grip is developing on that German central bulge to compel its evacuation sooner or later, perhaps without a frontal assault. Its fall would widen the breach already driven into Siegfried defenses.

Once either the Meuse at Venlo or the Roer north of Linlich is crossed by the Allies however, there remain no river lines or other natural barriers on the way to Gladbach, a sizable Nazi city, as in the case of Cologne itself.

While the German bridgehead west of the Meuse is reported virtually eliminated by the British, there has been no intimation as yet of a British attempt to cross the river itself if it has been reached anywhere from north of Venlo to Roermond.

A British breakthrough there could turn the present German resistance front either to the north or the south. It remains to be seen whether General Eisenhower throws in his reserve for the final attack when he is ready on the Meuse or on the Roer.

Munitions Blast Is Fatal to 20

BURTON-ON-TRENT, Eng., Nov. 27 (AP) — A terrific explosion in an underground munitions storage depot today killed at least twenty persons, injured eleven, trapped thirty and blitzed a countryside.

Five bodies had been recovered to-night by rescue workers hampered by craters from bombs tossed up through the earth's surface which devastated a village and surrounding farmlands.

Five counties were shaken and windows broken thirty-two miles away. Stunned villagers told of seeing buildings, boulders, trees, telegraph poles and livestock flung high in the air.

As debris rained over an area miles wide, bombs from the depot also fell and new explosions thundered.

Exemption Certificates Must Be Filed by Friday

Employers will be permitted to withhold taxes without exemption allowances, if a list of all personal exemptions is not filed by that time. An instruction pamphlet for calculating exemptions is furnished with the certificate.

lanks whose commanders Palm had killed. One tank tried to move and promptly knocked itself out on one of Dover's mines.

Thus encouraged, Palm maintained his siege of the command post all night and well into the next dawn when his battalion commander came up under fire, located Palm and his men and led them out of the town because the infantry was preparing a new assault.

Returns to Town
Palm no sooner got back to his battalion command post than he asked for volunteers to go back into Prumern and help clean out the place. He quickly got together a squad and went back into the fight.

For all this Palm has been cited in his division dispatches and also in British dispatches because his division was operating under British command at the time.

Roosevelt Appoints

Selection of Stettinius, former chairman of United States Steel Corporation, placed a relative newcomer to diplomacy in control of this government's foreign affairs machinery on the eve of one of his- tory's most critical periods.

Together with the fourth-term president he will be responsible for maintaining American leadership in the move to bring a peaceful and prosperous world out of the suffering and devastation of this war.

Prompt senatorial approval of the appointment was freely predicted although many ranking members had favored their old colleague and long-time associate, War Mobilization Director James P. Byrnes for the top cabinet spot. Vice President Henry A. Wallace had also been mentioned, reportedly with strong labor backing.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee led off the forecasts of senatorial approval. He announced his committee would take up the appointment Wednesday. Stettinius, he said, "is a man of good capacity and will prove to be an industrious and active in the promotion of international peace and security."

Hull's illness cut short his career at its peak. He had set his heart on seeing through to creation the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world security organization. Stettinius had been his and President Roosevelt's lieutenant in bringing that plan into being in the Anglo-American-Soviet-Chinese conference here last summer.

Secretary Hull's resignation leaves in the cabinet only two of President Roosevelt's original 1933 choices—Interior Secretary Harold I. Ickes and Labor Secretary Frances Perkins.

All of the cabinet posts have turned over at least twice—the Navy department has had four secretaries and the Justice department an equal number of attorneys general. All together, President Roosevelt has made twenty-three cabinet appointments.

The latest appointee, Secretary of State Stettinius, will be the youngest of the group at 44. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson is the oldest at 77.

The bag had not been recovered late last evening.

eral district court in his home district and ask for an injunction against the suspension. No suspension order could take effect within five days of its issuance.

Administration Opposed

The administration opposed the amendment from the outset, contending its adoption might glut the courts with war-priority litigation and slow up the allocation of critical materials needed for war manufacturing.

Sponsors of the amendment said, however, they do not believe much actual litigation will grow out of the change if it is adopted.

Appeals from WPB or war agency orders now go up through the agency itself and are passed upon finally by the office of James P. Byrnes, director of war mobilization and reconversion.

Hull's Resignation And His Successor

THE RESIGNATION of Secretary of State Cordell Hull will deprive the president's cabinet of one of its ablest members and there will be universal regret owing to the generally approved course he has taken in advocating the cause of an international organization to prevent future wars. It will take a big man to fill his shoes. Speculation naturally caused by his prospective retirement has already brought forth mention of Byrnes, Wallace, Stettinius and Winant, as probable successors, but it can be said in all candor that the best material available is not included in that listing by any means.

It is hoped that the position will not be filled as a mere political reward and that it will rest more on capacity in view of the present great importance of this cabinet post. The prospects in this direction are not exceedingly bright in view of many reports emanating from Washington that the lame-duckers are to be taken care of by the administration as usual.

One of the latest restandees, reported by Newsweek, is the lame-duck Senator Samuel Jackson of Indiana, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention, and who is said to be high on a White House list of persons to whom federal jobs are to be offered. Other recent instances are the appointment of Robert A. Hurley, former Democratic governor of Connecticut, who failed in an attempted come-back in the recent election, as a member of the board which will administer the Surplus War Property act, and the reported prospective appointment as a member of the board of Senator Guy M. Gillette, of Iowa, defeated for re-election.

Ice Cream for Britain After Four Years

NOTHING could be more American than ice cream, and to that extent at least Americans may incline to sympathize with the home-front situation of the British, who have had to go without ice cream for four years. Ice cream is popular with the British, young and old, so the concept of an American without ice cream may well be applied to a Great Britain without ice cream—for four long years.

Cheering, therefore, is the news that Britain is about to have lifted wartime ban on ice cream. The British public has been so informed by William Mabane, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food, in a written statement to the House of Commons. But, as Mr. Mabane warned, it will be some time before ice cream becomes generally available owing to the manpower shortage and transport difficulties which make it impractical for manufacturers to resume distribution on a prewar scale.

The news that Britain is to have ice cream is especially agreeable in the case of Britain's youngsters into whose lives so much wartime misery and disaster have fallen. The return of ice cream will mean much to them in promise of a return to normal, unshadowed pursuits of happiness, even if they will have to wait a considerable length of time to catch up on their ice cream eating.

The Christmas Seal Campaign Starts

BECAUSE the expected contributions are comparatively small, the thirty-eighth annual tuberculosis Christmas seal sale, which got under way this week in Maryland, will in all likelihood be a success. This year as in former years, despite the fact that other fund campaigns are under way, people in general appreciate the work done in combating this insidious disease not only for the relief provided but particularly because of the health insurance involved with its consequent effect upon the whole social fabric. It is a common-sense and economical method of self-protection and, hence, of interest to every family and individual.

The proceeds of the annual Christmas seal sale are used to finance the anti-tuberculosis campaign throughout the state, which includes case-finding, X-ray testing, tuberculin-testing, medical research, health education, negro program and the Miracle House, a children's preventorium. The campaign is conducted by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, headquarters 900 St. Paul street, Baltimore 2, under the auspices of the National Tuberculosis Association, with which it is affiliated.

The anti-tuberculosis program is related to the war effort. According to William H. Staub, general state chairman, it "is a most vital part of that effort that those on the home front remain healthy in order to produce materials of war." The armed forces are successfully controlling the disease by X-ray testing every recruit and through an expanded X-ray program the association hopes to follow their lead.

Staub further notes that the efforts of the association in co-operation with the state, county and city health departments of health have successfully maintained the tuberculosis death rate at its prewar level. "It takes increased effort," he says, "in order to keep the death rate from rising in times such as this, especially since the disease is rampant in the occupied countries and has shown an alarming rise in England, as well as some of our large industrial cities." Accordingly, the signs point to an increase.

in this country, for which reason the association has enlarged its program.
The purpose is beyond dispute and united support should be forthcoming.

Food Situation Will Hit German Morale

DARK as the military picture appears for the Nazis, they are face to face with a fact still more distasteful to the true Hitlerite mind. They have been told by Herbert Backe, minister for food and agriculture, that Germany must now depend upon its own food resources, that food taken by Germany from vast areas outside its own borders during the last five years was no longer available. The tone of Backe's address was described by London's Algemeine Zeitung.

Regardless of the conclusions at which economists may arrive upon hearing Backe's appraisal of Germany's position in regard to food, the announcement should have a deteriorating effect upon Nazi morale.

The Small Town, Soul of America

SOMEONE has truly said that the soul of America abides in its small towns—the "home" towns which one never forgets where'er he may roam.

There are many reasons for this, and one may be that in our "home" towns the people know each other—as human beings, not just names, as neighbors on the street, at weekly luncheon clubs, in lodge or in church.

Thus, some place along the line the factory president is going to meet his employee, the farmer will meet the "city" man—and the three of them will discover that they are not so different in what they think and hope and work for.

The great national groups that are symbolized under the tags of Management, Labor, Agriculture are (or should be) nothing more fearsome than the projection in aggregate of these three "home" town neighbors.

In the trying days ahead when "close harmony" will be essential to the well-being of us all, it will help if we can keep that thought in mind—and in our hearts!

The Black Market Is A Two-Sided Deal

THE LATEST BLACK MARKET to spring up is in cigarettes. There are reports of persons going to vending machines, only to find them empty, but individuals standing nearby come forward to offer cigarettes at twenty-five cents a package. And everyone knows of the gossip that one can purchase gasoline without coupons if he knows the right place and is willing to pay the right price.

It is all very well to blame the person who originates such illegal traffic. But it must be recognized that no black market can exist without patronage. It is a two-sided deal. The buyer is equally guilty in the moral sense. The extra money paid by the buyer is sufficient in itself to prove what kind of cheap business it is.

An American soldier overseas baked a cake with a blowtorch. Until more details are available, the ex-riveter bride is warned not to try the method, as there is a difference between a blowtorch and an electric hammer.

German prisoners arriving at New York were surprised to find the city rebuilt after having been told it had been destroyed by Nazi bombs. It is hoped they also noticed the Statue of Liberty is still on the job.

One rumor identifies Hitler's troubles as in his throat, but the preponderance of opinion still is that it's higher up.

Gettings Things Done

By MARSHALL MASLIN
We spend most of our lives doing the little things that are part of the day's work. And there are so many of these things to do, thousands of them in endless variety.

Going to bed and getting up again. Shaving. Eating. Catching trains. Catching a gopher. Fixing a broken window. Bringing up the wood and coal. Putting out the cat. Winding the clocks. Getting the car greased. Remembering things.

Women have a much longer list. Keeping house and training their children. Planning meals and cooking them. Dishwashing and dusting. Keeping themselves well. Shopping. Remembering birthdays. Deciding whether to wash or send it out. Getting it back again. Answering doorbells. Trying to do two days' work in one.

Sometimes it seems to all men and women that life is a long string of little things that mean little and do not help at all but merely fill up the minutes and the days and the years and bring you closer to the end of things. . . . There is so much to do and you'll never get them all done. You wonder sometimes if they are all worth doing at all.

But while we do all these things, while we do our daily chores, perhaps we are getting ourselves Done. We are getting our own house in order. We have faults and we try to get rid of them. We make resolutions. We try to keep them but we break them and slip back into self-mistrust. We wonder if we will ever be what we want to be. It's like doing the dishes—what's the use of washing them when they'll just get dirty again? What's the use of Patching Ourselves Up—we'll soon have to do it again.

But little by little we get the house in shape, ourselves in shape, too. We get ourselves Done. Somebody might drop in to pay a call and we don't want the house in a mess. Something might happen to us and we don't want to feel ashamed. We want to be ready for the Great Call if he comes. And all the little jobs and chores and efforts may be preparation for something worth while and big. . . . We surely do hope so.

HE ISN'T JUST DOING IT WITH MIRRORS EITHER

Royalty Demands on Various Products Are Seen as Result of Petrillo Victory

By MARK SULLIVAN

What Mr. J. C. Petrillo has done is so novel that few understand it. The dispute between Mr. Petrillo's union of musicians, and the manufacturers of music records, had nothing to do with wages. Between the union and the manufacturers is a wage contract, about which no question was raised. Neither did the dispute have anything to do with hours or other conditions of work.

The dispute was of a sort that has never arisen before. And the victory Mr. Petrillo has won, if it stands, means a fundamental change in the relation between unions and employers.

Members of Mr. Petrillo's union, the American Federation of Musicians, play the music for a record. They get their pay, at rates agreed upon and satisfactory to them. But now Mr. Petrillo says the manufacturers of records must pay something additional. They must pay a fixed amount for each record made and sold to the public, the amount ranging from one-quarter of a cent to five cents per record.

Not Individual Bonus
It is the nature of this payment that must be understood, if the revolutionary character of Mr. Petrillo's victory is to be grasped. Observe carefully that the additional payment is not made to the particular musicians who played for the record. It is not a bonus for them. It is not to be confused with any system of piece work payments.

The payment demanded by Mr. Petrillo is made to the union as a whole, and goes into the union treasury. Such a payment is so novel that the nature of it is difficult to grasp. It may be compared to royalties, such as are paid to authors of books or owners of patents. Mr. Petrillo, by his victory, has put himself in a position to get for his union, by union compulsion, the right that is given by law to authors and inventors.

Just as record manufacturers must by law pay a royalty to the writer of a popular song, so must they now pay another royalty to the musicians' union for the playing of the music. Mr. Petrillo's union now has the same status as Mr. Irving Berlin, for example. Mr. Berlin is entitled by law to a royalty for writing "God Bless America." Mr. Petrillo's union now gets a royalty for the playing of it.

Important Precedent
The Petrillo case is important in itself. Even more important is the precedent established, and the application of it to industry generally. The same demand now successfully made by Mr. Petrillo, can be made by unions in any industry. Unions in the airplane industry can demand a royalty on each plane. In the radio industry the same. Unions in the steel industry can demand a royalty on each ingot and beam. This is likely to follow. Leaders of other unions cannot afford to see Mr. Petrillo make a demand and get it, without making the same demand for their unions.

Moreover, Mr. Petrillo's device is a way of getting more money for his union without any increase in wage rates. At a time when wage rates are more or less frozen by the "Little Steel" ceiling, set up by the War Labor Board, devices for getting around the ceiling are eagerly sought. The Petrillo technique is likely to be widely imitated.

Pension Theory
For the innovation Mr. Petrillo has thus introduced into American industry, he has a novel theory. Not that the theory matters, but it is interesting. Mr. Petrillo says that music records, so-called "mechanical music," takes work away from musicians. If mechanical music were not used by radio broadcasting stations, and others, the music would have to be supplied by "live" musicians. So Mr. Petrillo claims that the musicians thus deprived of work are entitled to compensation from the thing that displaced them. Hence Mr. Petrillo says that on each music record the manufacturer must pay a royalty into the union treasury.

The royalties, Mr. Petrillo says, are to be used in part to take care of unemployed musicians. By this theory, persons thrown out of work by any mechanical invention would become pensioners upon that invention. Drivers of horse-drawn vehicles would have been entitled to compensation from manufacturers of automobiles, the compensation to be in the form of a royalty on each automobile. Drivers of ice wagons would have been entitled to royalties on each mechanical refrigerator.

Peace Idealists Face Hard Sledding, Lawrence Says
By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Idealism in international policy faces some hard sledding in the next few years. Already the argument of the idealist for morality and sincerity in international relations is being scoffed at as "impractical" or as an insistence on "perfectionism."

But the sad truth is that the youth of this and other countries are being killed by the tens of thousands today because the idealists of other years allowed the exponents of expediency, compromise and rationalized selfishness to find excuse after excuse for inaction as Hitler and the forces of dictatorship gradually built up their military power in Europe.

One of the principal alibis or smokecreens raised to confuse the facts of history, for example, is the tendency of the so-called practical men in international affairs today to blame the war on the alleged weaknesses of the League of Nations. Another is to insist that the acid test of a co-operationist in international affairs is his willingness or unwillingness to permit an American delegate to commit the United States to war overnight without the consent of Congress.

Ample Time for Action
The historical truth is that there is ample time for an advance commitment because wars do not begin overnight. It was not in the sudden bombardment at Warsaw in 1939 that the European war really began but in the years leading up to such a climax. The present European alliances that are being offered as supposedly within the framework of a new league of nations. This is a compromise with truth and an initial surrender of conscience.

Small Governments Banned

Small governments are already being told what kind of ministries they may have, and "puppet" regimes are being accepted on the basis of a rationalized legitimacy. For the "practical" side in Britain and Russia and here in America is already urging that American idealism must be considered utopian or remote and that a system wherein might makes right can, after all, be benevolently administered even as the world is boldly asked to regard a universal society of equal sovereign nations as too perfectionist a solution for the time being.

But somehow idealists have a way of seeing through the transparent insincerity of those in government here or abroad who start arguing that morality and right are too difficult to establish in a world of vice. And somehow the boys who have risked or given everything that was precious to them—human life with its careers and opportunities for achievement—may some day serve as reminders to the world that while idealism is difficult to attain, it will never be attained at all unless, at heavy cost of inconvenience to nations and individuals, a genuine start is made on the road to that selfsame goal of perfectionism. ## Managed Economy Failure Is Blamed For Cigarette Lack

By PAUL MALLON
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Where are the cigarettes?

This year the country is producing the second largest tobacco crop in all its history. Last year it produced the biggest. The figure for this year will be 1,072,000,000 pounds of flue-cure, the type used in cigarettes.

Of this, the government is buying, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, 400,000,000 pounds for lend-lease. Most of it will go to the British for their cigarettes, leaving us only two-thirds of our crop.

The government, you know, has had restrictions not only on the growing of tobacco but on the amount to be released to the cigarette manufacturers. At the start of the year, it announced it would give the makers for American cigarette production only 483,000,000 pounds, then in August it upped this figure to 578,000,000 in September to 624,000,000, and, finally, in October, to 666,000,000.

Heart of Problem

Within this situation I think is the basic cause of the difficulty. A flurry of excuses is being offered on every side, but this one gets at the heart of the problem.

True, cigarettes are not made out of current tobacco. The leaf is aged generally from two to three years, sometimes more. But the crop, cultivated-managed releasing, lend-lease process above described has been going on for many years.

Obviously, our managed economy in tobacco has not worked any better than is noticeable in other farm and industrial lines. Indeed, the Commerce department's Bureau of Foreign Statistics more than a year ago was able to forecast the precise shortage situation which has now developed, and the prophecy was based largely on the factors above described.

Obviously, not enough tobacco was permitted to be grown three or four years ago to take care of the tremendous demand from Britain, which has constantly increased from year to year and the war increase in our own consumption.

More Smoke Now
After this explanation, most of the others you see offered on every side have authentic secondary application. Our people are smoking much more due to war strain and swollen pocketbooks.

Men at the front smoke more probably than they did at home. Their shortage situation, however, probably will be cleared up shortly. We shipped a sufficient quantity of cigarettes to take care of the demand to the United Kingdom distribution centers.

But in France particularly, with the ports closed, priority had to be given to ammunition temporarily. When this bottleneck is broken the soldiers on the western front should get their smokes.

Whether we can get ours is doubtful. The reserve supply of the tobacco companies is low. They are supposed to have already eaten into their normal two to three year reserves and thus abandoned to a considerable extent their ageing process, which may account for the fact that cigarette taste differs lately.

Conditions Unknown

No one knows much about conditions in the industry. There have been rumors that the companies have been running twenty-four hours a day, but these have not been verified. Whether the utmost production of their machines is maintained cannot now be said as surely.

There are reports also that some of the large companies are holding back, and continuing to adhere to their ageing process in order to extend their supply as far as possible. Yet there are officials here who will tell you civilians will not find any real improvement in the cigarette situation before the end of the war.

Perhaps black market hoarding can be stopped, and an equitable distribution system arranged for whatever production we can muster. If this is done, some improvement in conditions is possible. If some of the commodity credit corporation's buying for Britain is released, also might help.

Parker Discusses Civil Air Rulings At CAP Meeting

Lt. V. A. Parker addressed members of Western Maryland Squadron No. 331, Civil Air Patrol, on new civil air regulations and the arrival of two new planes at the local airport at the meeting of the CAP Friday.

Lt. Parker explained that examinations for private pilots have been modified, due to the fact the training program has become so streamlined. He reported that changing the required number of hours for a private pilot license from thirty-five hours to twenty-five hours is under consideration, and that all men holding a private license, who have 200 hours may serve as "apprentice instructor" within the next couple of months.

Lt. George Ruel, a former local pilot, who flew the original coast patrol, and who holds a ground instructor's rating, will send two Aeroflex trainers to the local airport within the next week to be used for instruction, Lt. Parker said. Either Lt. Parker or Lt. Ruel will be selected to conduct ground school and give flight examinations. The speaker also explained the principal differences in flying and take off of the Cub which Lt. Parker

Ridgeley Man Fined $29.60 as Result Of Beer Parlor Fight

Charles Smith, Ridgeley, was fined $29.60 at a hearing before Mayor Paul K. Morgan of Ridgeley, Friday evening on charges of drunken and disorderly conduct and of striking an officer in the performance of his duty, according to Chief of Police Edgar Shillingburg of Ridgeley.

Smith will be committed to the Mineral county jail. Keyser, for thirty days in case the fine is not paid today, authorities said.

The Ridgeley man's arrest followed a fight in Sutton's beer parlor on Sunday about 11 p. m. in which a woman identified as Mrs. Constance Crowder, 22, of Henry street, was injured. The woman is still a patient in the hospital suffering from bruises and undetermined injuries, authorities said.

Chief Shillingburg said that Smith related arrest and kicked him as he started to place a pair of handcuffs upon him.

has been using for instruction at the local airport and the new Aeroflex.

Lt. Wade Berg and Lt. Parker discussed the various landing strips, stressing the fact that a dirt landing strip is the easiest on which to land and concrete the hardest for light planes, because of the thermal current coming up from the concrete in the summer. The local airport, it was pointed out, will be so arranged that the planes can be landed either on dirt or hard surfaces.

Textile Workers Ratify Three Items of Policy

Three matters of policy, ratified by the membership of Local 1874 Textile Workers of America, at a meeting Wednesday evening, will be negotiated with the Calumet Corporation of America in order to formulate a permanent understanding in the matters, Richard E. Boyden, president, has announced.

The union interpretation and policy concerning "emergency calls" methods of paying overtime and "temporary loans" was formulated by the Policy committee of the union.

Plans are being made to confer with company officials next week on the matters, Boyden said. The union will be represented by the Grievance and Negotiating committees, Michael Blake, newly elected negotiator-at-large and union officials.

Since our republic was founded, no privilege has been guarded more jealously than the right to talk things over—a right for which men had fought in vain for centuries. The more viewpoints discussed, the clearer our national vision and the stronger our national unity.

Today, public opinion in America asks us all to protect our privilege. It warns us against spreading rumors thoughtlessly or circulating information helpful to the enemy. It urges us to challenge the person with "inside information on the war" by asking him, "Where did you get your facts?" It reminds us that the enemy lays important plans by piecing together little scraps of offhand information. There is no such thing as unimportant gossip.

Workers May Ask Check of Benefits

Because many workers past the age of 65 have returned to work during the war emergency and are receiving higher wages than before their retirement, their social security benefits may be recomputed in order to credit toward monthly retirement benefits the wages they have received since first filing a claim, according to Henry M. Millhouser, manager of the local social security board office.

Increased benefits will be available only to workers 65 or over who have claimed benefits and who subsequently have worked in jobs covered by the social security act at higher pay than their former average monthly wage, Millhouser said.

There is no need to recompute a worker's benefits if his pay stays as high as his average monthly wage between January 1, 1937, and the date he filed his claim. But if his pay is diminished because of illness, reduced hours or the loss of his job he should contact the local office in the post office building at once it was explained.

The new announcement does not mean that any person may receive benefits while working in jobs covered by the law. Millhouser warned. The law provides that benefits must be suspended for any month in which the beneficiary makes more than $14.99 on a covered job. Benefits will be recalculated upon the request of a beneficiary.

The benefit amounts of widows, orphans or aged parents, whose benefits were based on wages up to the time of an insured worker's death cannot be changed, Millhouser stated.

COUNTY SURVEY SHOWS ADVANCE OF EDUCATION

Combined figures from parochial and public schools show that in 1940, when the population in Allegany county was 86,973, there was one high school graduate for every 102 persons, according to a recent survey.

In 1910, when there were 62,411 persons in the county, there was only one graduate for each 1,177 persons. Using figures of all high schools in the county, the advance of education is shown by the fact that the total of fifty-four graduates in 1910 increased fifteen times by 1940, when there were 845 graduates in the county.

A total of 15,190 persons have been graduated from public and parochial high schools in the county since the first class was graduated from Ursuline academy in 1896. The parochial school with the greatest number of graduates is LaSalle high school, formerly LaSalle institute, which has presented 672 diplomas since its first class in 1910.

Ursuline academy is second, having graduated 457 students, including twenty-five conservatory of music graduates. Figures reveal that the least number graduated in a single year from Ursuline academy was one, while the largest class was thirty-two. At LaSalle the smallest class numbered four and the largest forty-seven.

Figures for the various comparisons were supplied by high school principals. A previous story gave statistics for the county's public schools.

Marvin Luther Windle, 329 Race street, a Celanese employee, was fined $5.75 by Magistrate Frank A. Perdue in trial magistrates court Friday on a charge of exceeding fifty miles an hour on Route 221.

Windle was arrested November 17 by State Trooper Graydon S. Dunlap.

Stegmaier's Purchase Apartment Building On Centre Street

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice M. Stegmaier, North Centre street, have purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Thumel the three-story brick apartment house adjoining Stegmaier's market, 431 North Centre street. Revenue stamps attached to the deed, filed for record Friday in the office of the clerk of circuit court, indicated the consideration was about $26,400.

The building contains seven apartments and Stegmaier said last night he intended to continue operating it as an apartment house.

Another deed filed for record Friday was for the transfer to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Morton of a Camden avenue property from Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Uiz. Revenue stamps attached to the deed indicated the purchase price was about $12,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Michael sold to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Diehl a property on Louisiana avenue. Revenue stamps indicated the purchase price to be about $6,000.

Dunlap Transferred

State Trooper First Class Graydon S. Dunlap, stationed at Barracks C, LaVale, since 1941, has been transferred to Barracks A at Waterloo, First Sgt. John H. Doud, commanding officer of the LaVale barracks, announced last night. The transfer was effective yesterday and Doud said, was caused by a shortage of troopers at the Waterloo barracks.

The ceremony will be solemnized in the rectory of SS. Peter and Paul's church with Mrs. John D. Twigg, Elerslie, cousin of the bride, as matron of honor and the bride's only attendant and Theodore Rowan, younger brother of the bridegroom serving as best man.

Modest Support Given Favorites In Irregular Day on Stock Mart

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Modest support appeared for assorted favorites in today's stock market although many leaders had to contend with a dearth of sound bids.

The flow of pleasing earnings and dividends again served as a mild buying incentive. Even here there was no rush to expand commitments unduly. Speculative and investment forces still leaned to the conservative side on the idea that the Allied push on virtually all fronts might mean earlier consideration of reconversion problems at home. Belief that more year-end tax adjustments were due also was a restraining influence.

With the exception of Union Pacific, which dropped a point, rails added fractions. Among these were Chicago and Northwestern at a new 1944 top; Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway. Ahead elsewhere were Westinghouse, Allegheny preferred, Allied Chemical, Glenn Martin, Douglas Aircraft, International Telephone, Eastman Kodak, United States Steel, United States Rubber, Kennecott and Standard Oil (N.J.).

On the losing end were Consolidated Edison, Dow Chemical, United Corporation preferred, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Boeing, American Smelting and International Harvester.

A sizable number of railroad bonds monopolized attention in today's market with gains of major fractions to 2 points or more.

The general market held a relatively steady mantle, although buyers appeared in no great rush to acquire favored issues with the result that most changes were small both ways. Sales of $11,891,000 were the largest since last July 14 and compared with $8,416,900 last Friday.

U. S. governments were about unchanged.

Fort Hill Begins Court Practice; Allegany Cagers Report Tomorrow

McGill and Whiteman Are Sentinel Holdovers; Cox is Nucleus of Camper Quint

Forty-seven boys answered the call for basketball candidates at Fort Hill high yesterday afternoon. It was announced last night by Coach Bobby Cavanaugh, who met with the squad, that he had selected a further cut for the team.

The Allegany High Campers will report tomorrow afternoon, according to Coach Walter "Bill" Bowers. The Cavanaugh has two holdover regulars in thurs available—Don McGill, rangy center, and Don "Bubbles" White-Ellersman, guard who starred on the matric gridiron for the Sentinels the past two seasons.

Others with experience are Ferguson ward Tevis Durbin, who saw quite a bit of action the latter part of last season, Ralph Beard and Bob Cag. Until others showing promise are Don Mason, Eddie Eyley, Randy Chase, "Zeke" Ziller and "Buddy" Gilles, who played in the Central Y.M.C.A. State Sunday School League a year ago.

Don Sensabaugh, one of last season's reserves, is expected to report when his finger injury heals.

Sentinels Open Dec. 8
The Sentinels will launch their campaign December 8 by meeting Piedmont high at Piedmont, W. Va. Cavanaugh hopes to arrange at least four games before the first of the year. Davis (W. Va.) high and Alumni will probably be played before New Year's.

In addition to ten Western Maryland Interscholastic League games, Fort Hill will probably play Keyser, Ridgeley, Romney, Martinsburg and Thomas. The schedule is expected to call for about twenty-five games.

The West Siders, 1944 champions of the Western Maryland Interscholastic League, will start practice sessions with only one holdover regular from last season when the Campers won twenty-one games and lost three. Allegany won the WMIL title with a record of ten straight triumphs.

Johnny Cox, diminutive guard, is the only first-stringer back. Others with experience include two lettermen, Guard Bill Stanley and Forward Dick DeHart, and Center Bob Price and Forward Bill Thompson. As things stand now, Allegany will open December 19 against the Somerset High Eagles at Somerset.

Justice Virtually Clinches Maryland Scoring Laurels

The mighty Baltimore Commodores, winners of nine straight games this year and sixteen in a row in two seasons, again dominated the Free State individual scoring today with five ball toters placing in the first ten.

(Choo Choo) Charley Justice, although stymied for the second time this season by the big, experienced Camp Perry, Va., Pirates Saturday, held his authoritative grip on first place with thirteen touchdowns in nine games for seventy-eight points.

Terry Day, the Morgan State speedster, was twenty-eight points back with six touchdowns and fourteen points after touchdowns for fifty points. Three other Baltimore contenders would have to reach almost unprecedented scoring heights to head off Justice for the year's honors.

Since Justice apparently had clinched touchdown and total scoring honors, the chief rivalry developed among Day, Harvey Johnson, of Baltimore, and Vic Pinos, of Navy, for point after touchdown leadership.

Pinos currently heads the race with nineteen conversions, while Johnson's next with seventeen and Day runs third with fourteen.

New Loop, Headed By Grange, Enters Pro Gridiron Ring

U. S. League Announces Plans for Eight-Team Circuit in 1945

By JERRY LISK
CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Headed by football's famous Harold (Red) Grange, the United States Football League today formally entered the professional gridiron ring, announcing plans for an eight-team loop starting in 1945.

Grange, famed as the "galloping Ghost" at the University of Illinois two decades ago, was elected president of the new circuit at a meeting here last weekend which closed with announcement that eight cities—Akron, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, New York and Honolulu—were granted franchises.

Grange disclosed that the league was incorporated under Illinois laws, would set up headquarters in Chicago and had collected $10,000 in guarantees from each of the prospective clubs.

Grange, in recent years a football author and radio broadcaster, declared that he had investigated "the whole pro setup" and felt certain there was room for a rival to the long-established National Football League.

Our club owners are all good businessmen—not millionaires—and they're not entering this thing on just a gamble," Grange asserted.

He said his league had no "axe to grind" with the National League, the proposed All-America Conference or other projected leagues. "We will not attempt to sign any players under contract with the National League, but as far as players they claim under the draft, that's another story. The final choice should be up to the player, himself."

The franchise holders were listed as: Chicago—J. E. (Ned) Grimes, a consulting engineer, and others; Baltimore—A. H. Ehlers, president of the Interstate Baseball League; Philadelphia—J. J. Alvin, businessman; Washington—L. Harry L. Harris, an insurance man now in the coast guard; New York—W. S. Palmer, a contractor; Honolulu—Ralph W. Olson, businessman; Dr. Samuel L. Yee, Chinese surgeon; and F. J. Brickner, a navy employee who once played football at St. Mary's, Calif.

Burns, representative of the Akron rubber bowl and fifty stockholders, Boston's franchise holders were not identified, but an announcement was expected in a few days.

Pigskin Experts Believe Cadets Will Sink Navy

Leslie O'Connor Says He Doesn't Want Landis Job

Secretary to Late Commissioner Says He'll Decline Office

By H. ROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Army will defeat Navy in the football game of the season at Baltimore Saturday.

That is the opinion of the eighty-two experts who voted in this week's Associated Press poll to determine the country's outstanding eleven.

Army was retained in first place for the fifth straight week with 55½ designations as the best and an over-all total of 737 points. Navy held the runnerup spot for the second consecutive tabulation and was followed by Ohio State, newly-crowned champion of the Big Ten, and Randolph field.

Navy got only one vote as the best team in the country but polled enough points in the other positions to finish as the runnerup. Ohio State and Randolph field furnished an oddity by deadlocking for third place, each with 507 points.

The top four were followed by Bainbridge, Iowa pre-flight, Southern California, Michigan, Notre Dame and Tennessee.

The latter two found room in the elite grouping when the Fourth air force and Georgia Tech slipped to lower rankings. Notre Dame skidded out of the top ten for the first time since October, 1942, two weeks ago following its defeat by Army. It sank even further last week despite the Ramblers' triumph over Northwestern but returned this time on the strength of its 21 to 0 conquest of Georgia Tech.

It is the first appearance in the select circle this season for Tennessee, unbeaten but tied and the east's representative in the Jan. 1 Rose bowl contest. Southern California, the Vols' rival in that game, outranks Tennessee by three positions and 136 points.

Neither Army nor Navy played last weekend while the Buckeyes completed their first unbeaten season since 1920 by spilling Michigan, 18 to 14. Randolph field found the Amarillo army air base a stronger foe than the 33 to 0 score indicates. Leading teams, determined on a basis of ten votes for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc. (first place votes in parentheses):

TOP TEN
Army (55½) ..... 737
Navy (1) ..... 624
Ohio State (8) ..... 624
Randolph field (5½) ..... 507
Bainbridge (1½) ..... 365
Iowa pre-flight (1) ..... 271
Southern California ..... 237
Michigan ..... 237
Notre Dame ..... 127
Tennessee ..... 101

SECOND TEN
11. Duke 98; 12. Great Lakes 79; 13. Montana 64; 14. Navy 54; 15. Alabama 26; 17. Camp Perry 19; tie for 18. Cal and Elgin, Calif., marines 11 each; 20. Second air force 7.

ALSO RAN
Virginia 6; West Forest 5, Georgia Tech 6, Georgia 6; Fort Pierce 5, North Carolina pre-flight 5, Illinois 4, Pennsylvania 4, Tulsa 4.

Football Coaches Turn to Future
NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—With the 1944 football season virtually over, a group of "big league" coaches turned to future developments of the game in talking to the New York Football Writer's Association today.

They included Elmer Layden, National Football League commissioner; Howie Odell, coach of the undefeated but tied Yale team; Joe Maniaci, whose Bainbridge naval training center team hasn't been beaten in two years; Paul Riblett, Pennsylvania end coach, and Frank Murray, University of Virginia coach.

Layden presented a plea for a national physical fitness program based on competitive sports instead of a compulsory military training program which has been proposed. Odell disclosed that Yale will abandon spring football practice as a result of the conditioning program tried this year when Swimming Coach Bob Kipphut put the grid candidates through an eleven-week gymnasium program.

Riblett offered the suggestion that "Ivy League" football will show marked improvement in the next few years because returning servicemen will seek out the best educational institutions. Maniaci, contrasting his experience as an 18-year-old player at Fordham with the work of the older men at Bainbridge, said he did not believe a boy of 18 was ready to play college ball and play hard because of the danger of injuries.

Murray added his observations on coaching. While teams, saying it had been a revelation to him how much could be accomplished in the short time allotted for practice.

ALLEGANY CELEBRATES THANKSGIVING VICTORY
The Allegany High Campers, who turned in a 7-6 victory over the Fort Hill High Sentinels Thanksgiving day to win the Cumberland Valley Athletic League championship and gain a share of the city title, were honored by the school's student body at a "victory" assembly yesterday.

Ralph Webster, principal, introduced the boys who got into the game and quizzed them about the contest. Coach Walter "Bill" Bowers gave a short talk and introduced the other members of the squad.

Captain Bill Stanley presented the ball used in the Turkey day tussle to Webster. The assembly ended after cheers and school songs.

Navy Mails Tickets To Service Contest
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 27 (AP)—The Navy Athletic Association put all Army-Navy game tickets to be distributed by them in the mails today.

The mailing completes the work of the association in connection with approved ticket applications.

Tula, with sixty-eight players available, has its largest football squad in the history of the school. Nineteen lettermen and forty-one freshmen are included.

Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma's A. and M. grid star, got off two seventy-seven-yard punts in the Aggies' opener against West Texas.

Carbine, winner of thirty-three races in forty-three starts and a famed sire in his later years, is the idol of Australian racegoers.

Sgt. R. D. Lewis Reports on War in South Pacific

Frostburg Soldier Describes His Activities as a Surveyor

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Mary Rank, former principal of Hill street school, who keeps in touch with many of her former students serving with the armed forces in many parts of the world, received a letter the past week from Sgt. Robert D. Lewis, stationed in the Netherlands East Indies, which she thinks is of special interest, particularly at this time when an appeal is being made for donations to the War Fund drive. He expressed thanks to Mrs. Rank for her letters with news from home.

"It seems ages since I've seen the familiar faces of Frostburg people," Sgt. Lewis wrote. "I've been around the world quite a lot since entering the army in January, 1943, and have not had a furlough since my induction and am now completing my eighteenth month overseas. Three of those months I served in sections of Australia and enjoyed myself quite well while there.

"But that life did not last long, as we were shipped to the jungles of New Guinea, and it has not been an easy life since that time. I have been working as a surveyor for most of the time, laying out runways and dispersal areas for planes, building roads and other construction work. I spent ten months building air fields in New Guinea without seeing very much in the way of war, excepting bombings and we've had plenty of that.

"Before we were sent to any new area, the infantry boys would always have the Japs well in hand, so that all we saw of enemy soldiers were the dead or those taken prisoners. I have found out lately that the Jap is not quite as good a soldier as we have been led to believe.

"For the past five months I have been on a small island in the Netherlands East Indies. When American troops invaded this island, five other surveyors and myself were sent in along with the infantry and got a good taste of war during June and July. It was the first time I worked under fire of the Japs, but I came through without injury.

"These weeks we slept in fox holes along with the infantry. I will always take my hat off to the infantry boys for their deserve a major part of the credit for winning this war.

"We were sent along with them to survey the existing air fields as they were captured, but we had quite a bit of trouble doing so. This island is all coral and full of caves. The Japs had occupied the caves on the hills overlooking the air fields and every time we attempted to go out on the fields they fired on us.

"First went on for a couple of weeks before our men blasted them out of the caves. And now everything is peaceful around here.

"The hardest part of this jungle life is being away from civilization. After fifteen months of this life it would be a pleasure to walk down a country street and look in the store windows. I'll be glad to get away from these jungles with their naked and dirty men and women. Some of our men have been here more than two years with no immediate hope of getting home.

"After so many months of this jungle life, the spirit seems to go out of the men and we lack the energy and pep that we should have. And then, too, we do not like to hear of the strikes and other confusion going on back in the states."

Sgt. Lewis, who is attached to a headquarters company of engineers, is a son of Benjamin B. Lewis, 64 McCulloch street, and the husband of the former Miss Mildred Smith, East Main street. He has two brothers in the service, Technical Sgt. Benjamin H. Lewis, India, and Pvt. Ellsworth Lewis, stationed in Missouri and now home on furlough.

Night Prowler Is Reported in Mount Savage

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT SAVAGE, Nov. 27.—Citizens here have been annoyed for the past three weeks by a mysterious night prowler. Numerous families have reported that someone has been looking in the windows of their homes at night and in several cases footprints have been discovered on porches.

The complaints come mainly from the upper New Row section. One woman in this section, whose husband is in the armed forces, said that for several nights she has been disturbed by footsteps on the porch of her home and opening the door one evening she said she saw someone running down the walk. However, due to the darkness she could not identify the person, but later she found a pair of women's gloves on the porch. Another resident in the same section, however, reports that she saw the prowler who was a man.

About three years ago the same section was disturbed by a "peep Tom," who was later caught by the state police. Police stated today that they have not been notified of the prowler to date.

Continuing their War bond tour, Burns and Allen will be in Philadelphia at 9 for their CBS broadcast, the guest to be the piano au-

James Wilkins Is Promoted to Sergeant

James Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkins, 415 Louisiana avenue, youthful nose gunner in the "Bomber Barons" of the Thirtieth AAF in the Southwest Pacific, recently has been promoted to sergeant. He has flown missions against the most strongly fortified and powerful Japanese installations in the Southwest Pacific theater of operations, recently hitting Boeroe and Borneo.

During these flights, often through turbulent and dangerous weather, Sgt. Wilkins has encountered intense flak and fighter interception over enemy targets.

Sgt. Wilkins is a graduate of Fort Hill high school and entered the service in July 1943. He attended radio school in South Dakota and gunnery school at Harlingen, Texas, before leaving for overseas duty in September of this year.

Of the nearly 5,000,000 aliens registered under the Alien Registration act of 1940, approximately half were eligible for United States citizenship.

Louisiana is popularly known as the "Pelican State."

Missionary Says World Has Choice: Christ or Chaos

Dr. E. Pearce Hayes Speaks at Methodist Church Conference

The world has the alternative of taking Christ or chaos, the Rev. E. Pearce Hayes, returned missionary to China, declared last night in the closing address of the Hagerstown district conference of the Methodist church held yesterday in Grace church here.

Pointing out that two-thirds of the inhabitants of the world are members of the yellow race, including the citizens of China, India and Japan, Dr. Hayes declared that there is a smoldering hate among them against the white race and added that unless America does something to prove it means the four freedoms there will be chaos in the world and war to make the present conflict look like a scrimmage.

Cynical Attitude
Most of the Eastern peoples view the four freedoms as a slogan and literally, the missionary said, but more educated and student group eye it with a cynical attitude.

Dr. Hayes related that his home in China was but eight miles from the coast and that for five years he was subject to Japanese bombings that wrought so much havoc in China.

The people, he said, had no way to help back and he added, he wondered if the Chinese ever would be able to forgive Christian America for the bombings because ninety per cent of the iron and shrapnel came in from America as well as ninety per cent of the oil used in the planes.

Finally, the minister said, he realized that the blame fell on un-Christian Americans and that he believes Christian America will do something to show that they are brothers and not commercialists.

The Methodist "Crusade for Christ," he added, is one answer in that it is an attempt to show that Americans do have sympathy for foreign peoples.

Two Separate Governments
Explaining that he frequently was asked why the Communists and Nationalists in China do not get together, Dr. Hayes answered that such an accomplishment is impossible because the Nationalists are committed to uphold the Nationalist government and the Communists are committed to break it down. He pointed out that they are not two parties but are two separate governments with a different currency and a different army and have no basis for reconciliation.

Gen. Joseph Stilwell, of the China-Burma-India command before his recent recall, threatened Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Dr. Hayes said, telling him that unless the Nationalists and Communists get together, lend assistance from this country would be halted. Chiang refused, however, on the basis that such a plan would not work and declared that whatever happened, China was still a sovereign nation, Dr. Hayes asserted.

Jap Parties Fight
Referring to recent Japanese advances in China, Dr. Hayes said that for a long time there has been a fight in Japan between the army and navy parties, the former wanting to go into the mainland of China and the latter anxious to expand in the South Pacific.

The navy party won, he explained, but after the defeat of the navy in the South Pacific, the army party gained support and the army began pushing into China. Recent fighting in China, the missionary declared, was the result of the army actually were American losses since all the Japanese thrusts were aimed at American airfields. He added that America lost seven large fields.

NAVIGATOR—Second Lt. William E. Stark, 24th North Central street, recently was graduated from the second air force combat crew training school at Davis-Monthan field, Tucson, Ariz., and in the near future will go overseas as a navigator of a B-24 Liberator bomber crew.

Benjamin Waingold, trading as Waingold Brothers operator of an iron and junk business at the rear of 807 North Mechanic street, has been sued by the Office of Price Administration through Chester Bowles, director, for triple damages on charges that he sold 336,700 pounds of rejected steel plates to several firms at prices above the ceiling set by the OPA for iron and steel products.

The bill of complaint, filed in United States District Court, Washington, asks triple damages of $6,687.37.

According to the bill, Waingold sold 138,000 pounds of rejected steel plates to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company on November 15, 1943, at $2.10 per hundredweight; on November 23, 1943, he is accused of selling 85,400 pounds of rejected steel plates to the Clarksburg, W. Va., Auto Wrecking Company for $1.75 per hundredweight, and from November 26, 1943, to August 9, 1944, he is charged with selling in small lots a total of 88,800 pounds of rejected steel plates at $3 per hundredweight.

A further charge against Waingold, reported to be seriously ill in a Baltimore hospital, accuses him of selling to the Western Maryland railway on July 5, 1944 a total of 44,500 pounds of rejected steel plates at $3 per hundredweight.

In its bill of complaint, the ceiling price is $2.796 per hundredweight. A summons, forwarded to Cumberland for service by Howard P. Loughrie, United States deputy marshal, orders Waingold to appear before the Office of Price Administration within twenty days in answer to the charges.

Waingold was arrested in connection with a black market in automobile tires here about six weeks ago and has posted bond of $1,000 for action of the federal grand jury.

Dr. Thomas M. Dickey, 69, pastor of Kingsley Methodist church, this city, from 1921 to 1928, died Friday, November 24, at 7:50 a. m. in Maryland General hospital, Baltimore.

His death followed an operation performed two days before, the second operation the Rev. Mr. Dickey underwent since June 2, 1943. The former local minister was retired in June by the 1944 Baltimore conference due to illness.

Begins Ministry in 1910
The Rev. Mr. Dickey entered the Methodist ministry in 1910 and was stationed in Morgan charge from 1910 to 1915. Other charges were Hancock, 1916 to 1920; Kingsley Methodist, Cumberland, 1921 to 1928; East Baltimore Station, 1929 to 1930; Brunswick, 1931 to 1934; Ellicott City, 1935 to 1936; Lanham, 1937 to 1942; Ward's chapel, Baltimore county, 1943 until his retirement in 1944.

During his pastorate here he was married to his second wife, the former Mrs. Grace Warvel, Greenville, Ohio.

Among other improvements in the local church during the Rev. Mr. Dickey's pastorate was the building of the educational unit at the cost of $28,000.

Rites Are Held
Besides his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Moler and Mrs. Mabel Shewbridge, both of Frederick, and Mrs. Roberta Snyder, Sheffield, Ala. and four sons, the Rev. DeWitt Dickey, pastor of Hancock Methodist church; Hamilton Dickey, Baltimore; Morrison Dickey, with the navy air force, Watsonville, Cal., and George Dickey, with the army air corps, now en route overseas.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Ward's chapel, Baltimore. The Rev. J. T. Stickland, district superintendent, officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. Owen Arrington, pastor of the church, a native of Ridgeley, W. Va. Interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Baltimore.

MRS. ELSIE WILSON
Mrs. Elsie Wilson, 40, wife of James Wilson, and sister of Mrs. Stanley Hamilton and Mrs. Charles Acker, both of this city, died yesterday in Detroit.
